1. Kara takes a break

Sparks Fly

Written by: SupergirlKaraAllen & SpeedsterBAllen

(Based on a rp, but with different scene setting)

Summary: Kara's life as a Superhero gets too hectic so she takes a time out and goes to Central City to visit a friend and tells him her problems their friendship soon becomes something more he helps her face her fears and two Villains?

Disclaimer: I do not own any DC characters just the story plot.

Songs in relation to fic: Taylor Swift's Sparks Fly and How you get the girl.

(Kara's Pov:)

It was the start of a very stressful week at Catco. I had found out that the one guy I was interested in had gotten back together with his ex named Lucy Lane that is right James Olsen was dating Lois's kid sis, funny thing was her Dad General Sam Lane disapproved of them being together no one was good enough for Lucy Lane.

What made things worse was finding out that Winn had a big crush on me. I was flattered; but I didn't have the same feelings towards him and I explained that to him he was crushed but we remained friends but things got really awkward after that then we just tried everything we could to avoid each other.

My main threat lately had been Cat Grant she was one of those people that you couldn't decide whether you liked or didn't like. I am her Assistant but yet she doesn't treat me like one, to her I am just some young girl who she thinks is too helpless to do anything yet I try to prove her from time to time again that I can do what she needs me to do what floored me was when she started to suspect that I was Supergirl what really bothered me was I spent all week trying to convince her I am not Supergirl even had Hank shape shift into Supergirl and have us meet face to face I had to admit he was good might even need him as backup in the future.

Needless to say, I think it has convinced Cat for now that I am not her she has even apologized for accusing me but I know the suspicions were still there that week I put in for a two week Alex wasn't too happy about that but Hank told her even Superheroes needed time off for everything I smiled at him thanking him for understanding.

Back at me and Alex's apartment I was packing a backpack with enough clothes for two weeks I thought about where I should go for my vacation. I could go and visit the Kents about a week ago I had gotten two emails one from Clark and the other from Martha Kent asking when was I coming for a visit Clark and Lois would be up there and Martha and Jonathan on the other hand I could surprise my friend Barry Allen.

And so it was decided Kara would go and see both of the splitting her time up with both they would be happy to see her to as well including Clark she soon takes off heading for Central City deciding to go visit Barry first she wanted to surprise him.

2. Barry Finds Love

It was a normal day in Central City for Barry Allen he was out on patrol when a voice came on it was his best friend Cisco "Barry I guess Cold & Heat no longer want to save the world; they are downtown holding a museum hostage". "On it". he sped off towards the museum running over several cars and cabs getting to the museum seeing a block of ice in front of it he then vibrated through it only seeing a flash of fire fly past him. "Well snart we have a playmate; The Flash how ice to see you how bout you not stand in our way and we call it a day?"

"You know what I was just thinking about that then you had to go and make an ice pun and I just can't have that". said Barry just as Captain Cold fired an ice bean and Barry sped to hear wave and punched him several times then hit Captain Cold but was hit by Heat Wave which sent him flying.

Kara flew to Central City towards a hotel where she was going to stay at she went inside then went back outside just as she was planning on enjoying her vacation, she suddenly was grabbed by Cold and struggled but she couldn't use her powers because it would give her identity away so she had to play along with the whole scene as a hostage.

"Hey losers! Put the hot blonde down!" "Ah The Flash again you just can't stay away, what do you have a crush on us? I am flattered but your not our type". He charged his cold gun and froze Barry but within seconds he was free. "New tricks boys", he quickly stopped time and grabbed Kara bringing her to safety as he dealt with the pair. "I like my odds".

Kara stayed right where she was watching the whole fight had heard of The Flash from Clark but she had only met him a few times she had no idea he was her friend Barry her friend she knew. She wished she could help him without risking her own self to be didn't need to she watched The Flash take down both guys then walk towards her.

"Hey, are you alright? Did they harm you at all?" he recognized her but didn't say anything about it trying to contain his own identity he held her hand pulling it up.

She stands up recognizing his voice but couldn't figure out who it was now "I am fine really, just was surprised and they scared me some you can say I was caught off guard". "

3. Barry tells Kara he loves her

Barry pulled off his mask smiling at her "That is what friends do right Kara?" he lifted her hand and kissed it then lifted her in his arms then sped off to Star Labs with her letting it all sink in.

Kara was shocked at who The Flash was her friend Barry! Why couldn't she figure it out sooner? "Yes, that is what friends do". she was surprised when he picked her up and sped off to Star Labs "How long have you been The Flash?"

"Oh several years now ever since the night of explosion", he used the computer in the lab to make sure she is okay. "Okay now lay still".

Kara did as told and stayed still "So, tell me what has been up with you? How are you and Patty doing?" She had no idea that Patty broke things off with him.

"Saving the world. I opened a coffee shop in midtown something to keep me busy other than being a Hero", he said looking down. "She broke up with me said she was too goal oriented and didn't need anyone slowing her down I never liked her anyway".

Kara's heart broke for him as she remained still "I am sorry to hear that you deserve someone better than her that thinks more about others than herself. I broke things off recently with Cat Grant's son he had an interest in me, but things were complicated. I felt like I couldn't trust telling him everything, didn't feel like lying to him, when I had to suddenly leave he wasn't my type there was no sparks when we kissed guess I am picky, or I just haven't met the right guy".

He took a chance and kissed her sparks flew between them he pulled back blushing but he held her face to his kissing her more never wanting to stop but he did and went to go sit down in a chair but checked in on her hoping she didn't hate him. "Kara are you okay? Please don't hate me I have liked you for a long time". he then sat down next to her holding her hand.

Kara was surprised by the sudden kiss she never expected it and felt the sparks flying between them to and realized she had strong feelings for him to she gazed into his eyes stunned she never knew he had feelings for her."I don't hate you, you just surprised me that is all.I have really strong feelings for you to". She looked into his eyes more they were kind and didn't look at her in a mocking way like Adam's heart pounded surprisingly, she doesn't pull away from him.

"Would you like to go out with me?You and I are the same there would be no lying, no secrets, and we will both watch out for each other, plus we both felt the sparks there is no denying it,we can't let go of each other and I never want to.I like you Kara with all my heart".

Kara looks at him they were the same "I would love to go out with you but there is something you should know, I am Supergirl i'm not sure if you figured it out already I try not to tell very many we are going to be dating, I thought you should know". She looks at him.

He wrapped both arms around her neck smiling."Kara or Supergirl all I know is that you are mine and I will protect you with my life me it doesn't matter darling".he kissed her again smiling.

"So your Supergirl?That is cool".he said then cuddled her close more never wanting to let her go"You should come here more often I wouldn't want to lose you darling and trust me you will never lose me until I fall in battle or of old age, but let's stick to the positive which is our newfound happiness".

She leans back into his arms smiling she felt comfortable around Barry like she could be herself."Well I am thinking about moving away from National City, my current job stinks and my Boss she hates me she has threatened to fire me more than twice I can tell she really doesn't want me there after what happened with her son".

"Well I know a nice apartment where you can stay and a nice job you can have with someone who actually cares for you and would never hurt you if your interested we don't have crazy Kryptonians Aunts and Max Lord, but we do have nuts that we can hurt and people to save and bonus me".

She looks at him surprised "Are you asking me to move in with you and to work with you?"She was touched by the offer she had been looking for something else anything other than being Cat's assistant.

"I am asking you to trust me with your heart and hope to know that I won't ever break it and also know that I will protect you from any harm so will you go on this journey with me sweetie?"he got on one knee holding her palm.

She looks at him and knows he's really sincere and honest "Yes I will go on this journey with you".she hugs him tight loving how romantic he is with needed this new start and needed to be away from Cat.

4. Kara makes a decision

"Kara I love you and I am happy you said yes".he sped them to his apartment hugging her so tight never wanting to let her go kissed her softly then he began to prepare a meal."Oh and you will get a home cooked meal every night".

She kisses him back "I love the sound of that no more staying long hours in someone's boring office trying to walk on eggshells just to please you know who she is even picky about her coffee?She complained it was cold one day I braught it in I shook my head and when she wasn't looking,I used my heat vision to warm it up"

He shook his head at the way Cat is"So how do you like the apartment?It's ours , would you mind sleeping in the same bed with me?It's too cold sleeping alone I promise I won't try anything I do not want to ruin this my love".he went to the bathroom and came out shirtless in his boxers.

She stared at him shirtless she loved his sixpack and his mucle and couldn't believe he was all hers "Sure, I would love to snuggle up with you".(And someday make love to you)she thought then blushed."I love this place it even feels like home".

"Well you are home now my love" he got into the kitchen chopping some cucumber and carrots smiling "Make yourself at home and prepare for your new start tomorrow".

He hugged her then grabbed a T-Bone steak.

Seasoning it on the indoor grill "So, how are you feeling?"he asked her concerned.

She watched him cook while checking her phone for messages she smiled at him "I am great and thanks to you I feel much safer know as talented as you are in cooking you should open your own restaurant I can cook to". turns out Alex wasn't too happy about her moving but understood she needed a life.

"Will you co-own it with me then? Since it was your idea".he quickly set the table and serves holding your chair out for you then waits for you to sit he kissed her again.

She kisses him back passionately "Of course I will I do need a new job something I can always count on to be there and it sounds like is for dinner?"

"Cajun Steak, Chicken with wild rice also a delicious cucumber salad with ranch dressing".he cut some salad and offered her some he held her hand with the other "I love you Kara so much".

She holds his hand while trying some of the salad with her other hand "I love you to Barry, I am glad you told me how you felt because I felt the same way I always thought you liked me for more than just a friend the way you would look at me said it all.I am glad that I decided to move here I needed the fresh start".
